PREFACE.

This little book was begun many years ago, and whenever suitable facts were obtained they were written down for future use. Much of the information herein given was received from my mother, who was the youngest daughter of Michael and Elizabeth Duncan Freeman, and a granddaughter of Moses and Nancy Knight Freeman, who came from England to America about 1762. Many thanks are also due to Michael Freeman, of Rarden, Ohio; George M. Freeman, of Blue Creek, Ohio, and Miss Minnie D. Freeman, of Wamsley's, Ohio, for information which was obtained by them and forwarded to me. An earnest effort has been made to secure accuracy, and make the work as full and complete as possible, but owing to the lack of historical data, the ideal completeness was not possible, by such time and attention as the writer could give to it. Whenever a name first appears in the record it is written in full, if the full name is known to the writer; and its contracted form afterwards shows the name by which he was called by his intimate friends. Thus "Wilson Shannon Freeman," when written "W. Shannon Freeman," indicates that he was known among his most intimate friends as "Shannon" Freeman; and "George Marion Freeman," when written "George M. Freeman," shows that he was called "George" Freeman. In order to render it more easy for reference, the work is divided into Books and Chapters — a Book being devoted to each of the two sons of Moses Freeman, whose genealogical record we have, and a Chapter to each one of their children. The succeeding generations are shown by Roman and Arabic numerals, which indicate the precise relationship of each individual to the person whose name stands at the head of the Chapter. Thus, in Book One, Chapter VII., II., 5. we see that Joseph Alvah Freeman was the fifth child of James G. Freeman, who was the second child of Moses Freeman, who was the seventh child of Michael Freeman, who was the eldest son of Moses and Nancy Knight Freeman who came from England to America. This book is not intended for general circulation, but only for those of the Freeman name and relationship. These will find in it a genealogical history of the past, and one that can at any future time be easily extended, so as to include those who come after us. It is hoped that this genealogical history will prove both interesting and profitable to the families and individuals chiefly concerned, for none of us should willingly remain ignorant of our forefathers and kindred, whose lives and characters affect us more than those of any other people. The writer, after a careful perusal of the whole record, acknowledges a feeling of just pride in the good and honorable character of the family as a whole, a fact which should stimulate us and our posterity to act worthy of such a parentage and relationship. May all who read these pages be members of the true family of God, and have their names written in the "Lamb's Book of Life."

THE FREEMAN FAMILY.

Moses Freeman was born in the vicinity of London, England, about 1738. He was married in London, about 1762, to Nancy Knight, she having been born in London, England, about 1740. Soon after their marriage Moses Freeman and his wife removed from England to the British Colony of Maryland, in North America, and located upon a farm near the eastern shore of the Chesapeake Bay, in Queen Anne County, not far from Queenstown, where they continued to reside for many years — until death. Their coming to America was about a dozen years previous to the Revolutionary War, probably in 1762, and they endured many privations during the great struggle for American independence. Moses and Nancy Knight Freeman were both brought up in connection with the Church of England, of which they became full members; and after their removal to America they associated themselves actively with the Church of England in Maryland, near the place where they lived. In this church their children were all brought up, baptized, and eventually confirmed as full members. Moses and Nancy Knight Freeman were the parents of several children, only four of whose names are known to the writer of this record, as follows.

I.—Michael Freeman, who was born June 8, 1765, married Elizabeth Duncan, January 3, 1792, and removed to the Northwest Territory in 1797.

II.—Joseph Freeman, who was born about 1768, was married to Elizabeth Higgins about 1795, and removed to the Northwest Territory in 1797.

III.—Nancy Freeman, who was born about 1770, and whose record we have not.

IV.—John Freeman, who was born about 1773, and whose record we have not.

The record herein given contains only an account of the descendants of the two first named children of Moses and Nancy Knight Freeman.

BOOK ONE.

THE DESCENDANTS OF MICHAEL FREEMAN.

Michael Freeman was the eldest son of Moses and Nancy Knight Freeman, and was born in Queen Anne County, on the eastern shore of Maryland, June 8, 1765; was married, January 3, 1792, to Elizabeth Duncan, removed with his family to the Northwest Territory in 1797, and brought up a family of nine children on his farm, near Blue Creek, Adams County, Ohio.

Michael Freeman, the eldest son of Moses and Nancy Knight Freeman, was born near Queenstown, Queen Anne County, on the eastern shore of the Chesapeake Bay, in Maryland, June 8, 1765, and brought up on his father's farm. He was married in the same neighborhood, in Queen Anne County, Maryland, January 3, 1792, to Elizabeth Duncan, a daughter of Charles and Keziah Duncan, she having been born in the same locality, November 25, 1770. Charles and Keziah Duncan, the parents of Michael Freeman's wife, were also the parents of three other children, as follows:

- I.—Mary Duncan, who was born about 1767, was married in Queen Anne County, Maryland, to John Williams, removed to the far West in 1797, probably in the same company of emigrants nearly all the way, with Michael and Joseph Freeman, and their families, and settled first in Kentucky. John Williams and his family afterwards located permanently in Adams County, Ohio.
- II.—Elizabeth Duncan, who was born November 25, 1770, was married to Michael Freeman, January 3, 1792, removed to the great Northwest Territory in 1797, and brought up a family of nine children near Blue Creek, Adams County, Ohio.
- III.—Keziah Duncan, who was born about 1773, and—
- IV.—James Duncan, who was born about 1775, of whom we have no further record.

Michael Freeman continued to live and cultivate a farm in Queen Anne County, Maryland, for more than five years after his marriage, during which time two daughters were born. But in the summer of 1797, Michael and Joseph Freeman, in connection with a company of emigrants to the far West, undertook that which at that time was a truly heroic task, i. e., the removing with their young families from the eastern shore of Maryland to the forests of the great Northwest Territory, to build homes for themselves and their children. At the time of leaving Maryland Michael Freeman was 32 years of age, and his wife was not yet 27 years old, and with two little children, the oldest being less than five years and the youngest less than two years old, they began the long, weary, tedious and dangerous journey to the Northwest Territory. The dangers, hardships and trials to be endured on the journey, and after their arrival, may be better imagined than described. We must remember that the forest must be felled, fields prepared for cultivation, houses built without carpenters, neighbors few and far distant from each other, beyond the reach of physician in case of sickness, the wooded hills inhabited by every kind of wild beast, and still more cruel men, for the savage Indian then roamed the forest, and might at any time appear with tomahawk in hand, ready for bloody work. These men, with their wives and little children, left the dear associations of the old home, never expecting to return; they bid farewell to those they loved; the sweet society of friends; the hallowed privileges of the sanctuary where they delighted to worship; and with a faith worthy of all commendation, committing themselves to the tender care and special providence of God, they set out for the far-off great Northwest Territory. At first they journeyed northward slowly along the eastern shore of the Chesapeake Bay, then onward in a northwesterly course along the valley of the Susquehanna River, until they reached the eastern slope of the Allegheny Mountains, which, after a long, weary and tedious struggle, they successfully crossed, and reached the Ohio River, at Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. Here they were detained for a while building flatboats and securing accommodations for their journey down the river. When the flatboats were completed and put in readiness, they, with a large number of other emigrants to the West, went on board. It was while floating down the Ohio River that they became acquainted with a real estate agent, with whom they made an arrangement to possess their own lands, and settle permanently on Blue Creek and on Scioto Brush Creek, in what is now known as Adams County, Ohio. They landed at a place near the mouth of Ohio Brush Creek, not far from where the village of Rome now stands, and journeyed inland about eight miles and located upon the east bank of Blue Creek, about a mile above its mouth, or entrance into Scioto Brush Creek, where they found a small but fertile tract of "bottom" land. Here, in that early day, and in the forest wilderness, Michael Freeman with courage and energy began the work of cutting down the forest, preparing fields for cultivation, determined to build a home for himself and family. After several years of faithful and successful work, having accumulated sufficient means, he purchased a large farm three miles distant, through which flowed the waters of Scioto Brush Creek — the east fork — where he permanently settled and spent the remainder of his life. This old "Freeman farm" is located on the main road from West Union to Portsmouth, Ohio, about ten miles east of West Union, two miles west of Blue Creek, and about ten miles from Rome, on the Ohio River, in Adams County, Ohio.

Michael Freeman was an honest, industrious, generous Christian man, and well respected by all who knew him. After his removal from Maryland he connected himself with the Old School Presbyterian Church at West Union, Ohio, in which he remained until death. Although belonging to a different denomination of Christians, and at a time when religious lines were generally very strictly drawn, he cheerfully donated the land upon which a Baptist Church was built upon his farm, and attended services there. He died at his home on the east fork of Scioto Brush Creek, April 14, 1835, after a married life of more than forty-three years, and in the 70th year of his age.

Elizabeth Duncan Freeman, a daughter of Charles and Keziah Duncan, and wife of Michael Freeman, as before mentioned, was born in Queen Anne County, Maryland, November 25, 1770; was married January 3, 1792, and with her husband and two little children, one a mere babe, and the other a prattling child, she came to the Northwest Territory in 1797 — less than ten years after the first permanent white settlement had been made in what is now the State of Ohio. She cheerfully endured the privations and hardships connected with early pioneer life in the new country, and as a faithful Christian mother brought up a family of nine children on the old home farm on Scioto Brush Creek. After the death of her husband, in 1835, she continued to live at the same place with her youngest daughter, Mary, and her husband, who, in 1834, at the request of Mr. Freeman, had come to live with them in their old age, take care of them, have charge of the farm and the management of all the business of the estate. This duty he continued to perform for a period of fourteen years, or thirteen years after Mr. Freeman's death. In the fall of 1848 Aaron F. and Mary Freeman Steen removed with their family to their own farm, near Mt. Leigh, Adams County, Ohio, and the next season Mrs. Freeman came to live with them, with whom she continued to make her home until her death, April 23, 1851, in the 81st year of her age. Her body was taken to the Blue Creek cemetery and buried by the side of her husband. Mrs. Elizabeth Duncan Freeman was a woman of generous heart and kindly spirit, an humble and devout Christian, greatly beloved. To Michael and Elizabeth Duncan Freeman were born nine children.

CHAPTER I.

Nancy Knight Freeman, the eldest child, a daughter of Michael and Elizabeth Duncan Freeman, was born near Queens-town, Queen Anne County, on the eastern shore of the Chesapeake Bay, in Maryland, October 3, 1792. When a small child she was brought to the Northwest Territory, when it was a very new country indeed—less than ten years after the first permanent settlement had been made in what is now the great State of Ohio. She was never married, and lived with her parents until after her father's death, then with the family of her youngest sister, at the old homestead, on Scioto Brush Creek, until 1848, when she removed with the family to their residence near Mt. Leigh, Adams County, Ohio, with whom she continued to make her home. Again, in 1865, she removed with her younger sister, her husband and family, to Xenia, Greene County, Ohio, and resided with her brother-in-law, Aaron F. Steen, until her death, in the autumn of 1867, aged 75 years. Her body was buried in the beautiful Woodlawn cemetery, near Xenia, Ohio.

CHAPTER II.

She lived with her parents, and spent the happy days of youth at the old home on Scioto Brush Creek, two miles west of the mouth of Blue Creek, where she grew to womanhood. CHAPTER VI.

James Freeman, the sixth child and third son of Michael and Elizabeth Duncan Freeman, was born on Blue Creek, in Adams County, Ohio, June 12, 1805, and died on his own farm, two miles east of the mouth of Blue Creek, February 18, 1860, in the 55th year of his age. James Freeman was brought up on his father's farm, and for many years he lived on a farm adjoining that of the old home, on the east fork of Scioto Brush Creek, near its source, and about ten miles east of West Union, Ohio, on the main road leading to Portsmouth. He was by occupation a shoemaker, and an excellent workman at his trade. He also superintended the work on his farm, notwithstanding a lameness in one of his legs. In the year 1852 he purchased from J. M. Walden a fine farm of 300 acres on the east fork of Scioto Brush Creek, about two miles below the mouth of Blue Creek, in Adams County, Ohio. This place was about fifteen miles east of West Union, on the main road, and twenty miles west from Portsmouth. It was also about eleven miles by way of the Blue Creek Road to Rome, a village on the Ohio River, which was his principal business or trading point. James Freeman was a man of genial nature, kind-hearted and social, an agreeable companion, delighting in society, ever ready to confer a favor, and well respected by all who knew him. He was married near West Union, Ohio, January 29, 1829, to Ann Prather, a daughter of John and Elizabeth Wilson Prather, she having been born near West Union, Ohio, June 15, 1808, and died at her pleasant home, January 28, 1870, in the 62d year of her age, beloved by all who knew her. John Prather and Elizabeth Wilson Prather, the father and mother of Ann Prather Freeman, were brought up on the eastern shore of Maryland, and were married in Queen Anne County, Maryland, near where Moses and Nancy Freeman first settled in America. They removed to the Northwest Territory and settled in what is now Adams County, Ohio, about the same time, and probably came in the same company of emigrants to the West with Michael and Joseph Freeman and their families. John and Elizabeth Wilson Prather were the parents of two sons and eleven daughters, all of whom were married and had families of their own. To James and Ann Prather Freeman were born four children.

I.—George Marion Freeman, the eldest child of James and Ann Prather Freeman, was born in Jefferson Township, Adams County, Ohio, about two miles west of the mouth of Blue Creek, December 18, 1829. George M. Freeman was an influential citizen, was frequently elected a Justice of the Peace, and was universally respected. He was never married, and was for many years manager of the old home farm. He died at the old home farm of his father and mother, two miles below the mouth of Blue Creek, in Adams County, Ohio, January 29, 1891, aged 61 years, 1 month and 11 days.

II.—Levi Freeman, the second son of James and Ann Prather Freeman, was born near Blue Creek, in Jefferson Township, Adams County, Ohio, September 14, 1832, and died at his own home, only a few miles from the same place, May 11, 1868, in the 36th year of his age. He was by occupation a farmer, and resided upon an excellent farm, adjoining that of his father. Levi Freeman was married by Henry Prather, Esq., near West Union, Adams County, Ohio, October 25, 1854, to Narcissus Smalley, a daughter of Abraham and Elizabeth Smalley, she having been born October 9, 1831. She was also a granddaughter of John and Mary Williams, who was formerly Mary Duncan, a sister of Elizabeth Duncan, who married Michael Freeman, in Maryland. It is probable also that John and Mary Duncan Williams came from Maryland to the North-west Territory at the same time and in the same company of emigrants to the West with Michael and Joseph Freeman, and John Prather and their young families, but that John Williams and his family first settled in Kentucky. They afterwards located in Adams County, Ohio. Thus it appears that Levi Freeman's grandmother, and his wife's grandmother, were sisters, and that they themselves were second cousins. To them was born one child.

1. Volney Wilson Freeman, a son of Levi and Narcissus Smalley Freeman, was born near Blue Creek, Adams County, Ohio, October 26, 1855. He lives upon his mother's farm, and has full charge of all business matters. He is the only heir to the estate. He was married in Portsmouth, Ohio, by Rev. David S. Tappan, November 26, 1894, to Anna Cora Ham, a daughter of Clark and Martha W. Ham. They have no children. His post-office address is Blue Creek, Ohio.

III.—John Prather Freeman, the third son of James and Ann Prather Freeman, was born near Blue Creek, in Jefferson Township, Adams County, Ohio, July 5, 1838. He was by occupation a farmer, and resided upon his father's farm, two miles below Blue Creek, on the east fork of Scioto Brush Creek. He was married by the Rev. Jesse Wamsley, September 18, 1861, to Belle Elliott, a daughter of John and Elizabeth Elliott. Less than four months after his marriage John P. Freeman suddenly sickened and died from typhoid fever, at the old home, where both his parents died, January 9, 1862, in the 24th year of his age. No children.

IV.—Wilson Shannon Freeman, the fourth son of James and Ann Prather Freeman, was born near Blue Creek, in Jefferson Township, Adams County, Ohio, November 21, 1840, and was brought up on his father's farm. He is a successful farmer and prosperous in business. He was always fond of the chase, delighting very much in the fox chase or deer hunt, and usually returned with good success. He is a fine marksman—almost a sure-shot—and woe to the animal that comes within the range of his trusty rifle. When just a young boy of perhaps a dozen years, he quite surprised his father and older brothers by coming home hurriedly and saying that he had killed a deer while he was out looking for squirrels. They could hardly believe the report, but followed him to the place and found the deer dead, its throat neatly cut with his pocket knife. The fatal bullet from his squirrel rifle had entered its heart. During the winter season he delights to spend a few weeks in some remote locality looking for game, and seldom returns home empty-handed. One season he went far down the Ohio and Mississippi Rivers into Arkansas and secured a large amount of game. W. Shannon Freeman was married by the Rev. Jesse Wamsley, at the residence of the bride's parents, one mile from his father's house, September 18, 1862, to Rebecca Ann Bradley, a daughter of James Madison and Eliza Peters Bradley, she having been born August 12, 1839, and died at the family home, March 19, 1891, in the 52d year of her age. After his marriage, W. Shannon Freeman lived in the old family home of his parents, on the East Fork of Scioto Brush Creek, two miles below Blue Creek, a happy life of more than twenty-eight years before his wife's death. He has no children. His present post-office address is Wamsley, Adams County, Ohio.

CHAPTER VII.

Moses Freeman, the seventh child and fourth son of Michael and Elizabeth Duncan Freeman, was born on Blue Creek, in Adams County, Ohio, February 10, 1808, and was brought up on his father's farm. He was married by the Rev. James Smith, near Jacktown, Ohio, January 13, 1831, to Margaret McCormick, a daughter of James and Hannah McCormick, she having been born September 4, 1811, and died in Otway, Scioto County, Ohio, March 12, 1900, in the 89th year of her age. After a long, happy, and useful Christian life, her mortal remains were lovingly borne to the White Oak cemetery, and laid by the side of her husband. After his marriage he purchased a farm and located upon it near the mouth of the west fork of Scioto Brush Creek, in Scioto County, Ohio. Upon this farm the village of Otway was afterwards built, and near by the old home is the railway station of the Cincinnati, Portsmouth & Virginia Railroad. At this place Moses Freeman lived happily and prosperously with his family until his death, August 10, 1851, in the 44th year of his age. He was a devout and earnest Christian man, of excellent spirit, a member of the M. E. CHAPTER VIII.

Mary Freeman, the eighth child and fourth daughter of Michael and Elizabeth Duncan Freeman, was born on the old "Freeman farm," on the east fork of Scioto Brush Creek, two miles west of Blue Creek, Adams County, Ohio, October 7, 1810, and died in Knoxville, Tennessee, July 27, 1895, at 6:30 A.M., in the 85th year of her age. Her body was tenderly laid away to rest in the beautiful Woodlawn cemetery, near Xenia, Ohio. Mary Freeman was brought up in her father's family, early gave her heart to Christ, and united with the Methodist Episcopal Church at the residence of Josiah Williams, on Blue Creek, when about thirteen years old, and ever afterwards maintained a consistent and devoted religious life. She was married at the residence of her parents, on the old Freeman farm, on Scioto Brush Creek, two miles west of Blue Creek, Adams County, Ohio, March 25, 1830, to Aaron Faris Steen, a son of Alexander and Agnes Nancy Steen, he having been born near Fleningsburgh, Kentucky, August 23, 1807, and died at his residence, near Xenia, Ohio, February 15, 1881, in the 74th year of his age. His body was buried in the beautiful Woodlawn cemetery, near that city. At the time of the marriage of Mary Freeman to Aaron F. Steen, the streams were so swollen by the heavy rains that had prevailed for several days previous, that the minister who was to have married them — the Rev. John Meek — failed to reach the place, and the ceremony was performed by John Williams, Esq., a Justice of the Peace, who was present as an invited guest. After her marriage she removed with her husband to a farm which he had leased for five years. It was situated on Brush Creek, at the mouth of Elk Run, two miles from Winchester, Ohio, and about the same distance from the Mt. Leigh Presbyterian Church, with which they soon became connected, and were regular in their attendance. In the fall of 1834, the lease having nearly expired, at the earnest request of her parents, they returned to live with them in their old age on the old home farm on Scioto Brush Creek, she to care for the family, and her husband to take charge of the farm and manage the business. The following spring, April 14, 1835, her father, Michael Freeman, died, but she and her husband continued to live there for thirteen years, and have charge of affairs as before, during which time they were members and attendants of the Presbyterian Church at West Union, Ohio. In the autumn of 1848 she removed with her husband and family to a farm he had purchased near Mt. Leigh, two miles from Youngsville, and three miles from Winchester, Adams County, Ohio, bringing her mother and eldest sister to make their permanent home with them. Here they connected themselves again with the Mt. Leigh Presbyterian Church, of which, the next year, Mr. Steen was ordained a ruling elder, and continued such until his removal from the place. The children were all baptized in this church, and regular attendants. In the summer of 1865 Mr. Steen sold his farm near Mt. Leigh and purchased a tract of eleven acres of land adjoining the city of Xenia, Ohio, to which they removed the same season, and where they continued to reside. Here they united with the First Presbyterian Church in Xenia, under the pastorate of the Rev. William T. Findley, D.D. The fiftieth anniversary of the marriage of Aaron F. and Mary Freeman Steen was appropriately celebrated at their residence, near Xenia, Ohio, March 25, 1880. It was a delightful occasion, which but seldom occurs. All their living children and grandchildren were present with but a single exception, together with many friends and relatives, including Mrs. Catherine E. Blair, a sister of Mr. Steen, and who was present at the wedding fifty years before. Dr. John A. Steen, of Ripley, Ohio, presented his uncle with a gold-headed cane. Several short addresses were made, a number of presents given, an elegant dinner served, a very enjoyable social gathering, and the whole concluded with religious services. Less than a year after this golden wedding, February 15, 1881, Aaron F. Steen died, and his body was lovingly laid away in Woodlawn cemetery. After her husband's death, Mrs. Steen and her daughter moved into Xenia and lived together until the latter's marriage, in 1885, then for two years in Yellow Springs, Ohio, and from 1887 until her death, in 1895, at the home of her son, Prof. E. Watson Steen, in Knoxville, Tennessee. During this time, however, she made extensive visits to her daughter, who lived at Westboro, Massachusetts, and afterwards at Cincinnati, Ohio. While residing at Knoxville she was a member of the Third Presbyterian Church (Southern), in which she delighted to worship. Mary Freeman Steen was devotedly attached to her children, and faithful in religious instruction and Christian training. She was permitted to see the fruit of her labors, all of them being brought into the kingdom. Well does the writer remember how she used to take him to some private chamber alone, or under some tree in the orchard, and talk to him earnestly and lovingly after he had been guilty of wrong-doing, and with tears in her eyes kneel down and pray to God for his pardon and grace to make him a better boy. God was pleased to bless her instructions and prayers to his conversion, and to the life work of a Christian minister. She was one of God's noble women, whose influence was not only exerted at home, but whose power for good was recognized wherever she was known. She was noted for her generous hospitality, her genial social nature, kindness of heart, and benevolent disposition, ever ready to make sacrifices for the good of others. She died at the ripe old age of nearly 85 years, in the full hope of a glorious immortality. She was the mother of nine children.

I.—Wilson Freeman Steen, the eldest child of Aaron F. and Mary Freeman Steen, was born on the farm, two miles east of Winchester, Adams County, Ohio, May 11, 1831, and died in Xenia, Ohio, March 20, 1882, aged 51 years, 10 months and 9 days. He was brought up on his father's farm, where he worked in summer and attended school in winter. When he became of age he spent a winter in Delaware County, Indiana, where he taught school. In 1853 he returned to Adams County, Ohio, and engaged in teaching near the place of his birth. When a youth he was a regular attendant at church, and a diligent student in the Sabbath-school, an energetic and industrious young man. He early gave his heart to Christ and united with the Mt. Leigh Presbyterian Church on profession of faith, in 1849, maintaining ever afterwards a devout, consistent and useful Christian life. He was always fond of music, and, like his father and grandfather, had a natural talent for it. After a special course of study at the Musical Normal School, he became a teacher of vocal and instrumental music. He taught very many classes in Adams, Brown, and Clermont Counties, often as many of three or four upon each secular day of the week. In 1860 he removed to Xenia, Ohio, where he followed his chosen profession until 1867, when he removed to Cincinnati, and in addition to his music classes he opened a store for the sale of musical instruments. In 1867 he removed to Ludlow, Kentucky, just across the river, but continued his business in Cincinnati, as before. Here himself and family connected themselves with the First Presbyterian Church, of which his brother was pastor. He was elected, ordained, and installed a ruling elder in this church September 15, 1878, in which position he became an efficient officer and a very useful man. He was possessed of a kind heart, gentle spirit, and was interested in every good work. As leader of the music and teacher in the Sabbath-school, his labors were exceedingly profitable. In the autumn of 1882, owing to failing health, he was obliged to quit his business. He returned to Xenia, Ohio, to spend his last days, but continued very meek, patient, and uncomplaining to the very last. He died, March 20, 1883, in the sure and certain hope of a blessed inheritance, a man greatly beloved by all who knew him. His body was laid away in Woodlawn cemetery, near Xenia, Ohio. W. Freeman Steen was married by the Rev. William Fee, in Xenia, Ohio, December 25, 1862, to Emma Marie Stipp, a daughter of Dr. Nathan B. and Eliza J. Stipp, she having been born in Bellebrook, Greene County, Ohio, October 8, 1842, and died in Cincinnati, Ohio, October 3, 1899. To them were born three children.

1. Edith Marie Steen, the eldest child and only daughter of W. Freeman and Emma M. Steen, was born in Xenia, Ohio, March 28, 1864, and was brought up in her father's family. She was married in Cincinnati, Ohio, by the Rev. Edward Anderson, September 17, 1882 (?), to Charles William Bogart, the only child of John H. and Anna M. Bogart, he having been born in Ludlow, Kentucky, April 20, 1864. They have resided in Ludlow, Kentucky; Cincinnati, Ohio; Covington, Kentucky, and Hamilton, Ohio. Charles William Bogart is a fine musician, an excellent wood engraver, and a skillful machinist—manufacturer of gas engines. Residence, Buffalo, New York. To them were born six children.

I.—Charles Franklin Bogart, the eldest son of C. William and Edith M. Steen Bogart, was born in Cincinnati, Ohio, July 12, 1883.

II.—Edwin Richard Bogart, the second son of C. William and Edith M. Steen Bogart, was born in Ludlow, Kentucky, December 28, 1885.

III.—John Albert Bogart, the third son of C. William and Edith M. Steen Bogart, was born in Ludlow, Kentucky, February 18, 1889.

IV.—James Helmus Bogart, the fourth son of C. William and Edith M. Steen Bogart, was born in Ludlow, Kentucky, August 26, 1891.

V.—Lawrence Wilson Bogart, the fifth son of C. William and Edith M. Steen Bogart, was born in Covington, Kentucky, February 2, 1894.

VI.—Marine Dewey Bogart, the fifth son of C. William and Edith M. Steen Bogart, was born in Hamilton, Ohio, January 30, 1898.

2. Earnest Linden Steen, the second child and elder son of W. Freeman and Emma M. Steen, was born in Xenia, Ohio, November 2, 1865. He resided with his parents until his father's death, and afterwards in Cincinnati, Ohio. He died in Cincinnati, Ohio, July 8, 1894, aged 28 years, 8 months and 6 days.

3. Clarence Freeman Steen, the third and youngest child of W. Freeman and Emma M. Steen, was born in Ludlow, Kentucky, February 23, 1879. After his father's death he resided with his mother until 1890, then spent four years with his uncle, Prof. E. Watson Steen, at Knoxville, Tennessee, attending school. In 1894 he returned to Cincinnati, Ohio, where he learned his trade, and resided with his mother until her death. Clarence F. Steen is a bookbinder by trade. Residence, Toledo, Ohio.

II.—Eli Watson Steen, the second son of Aaron F. and Mary Freeman Steen, was born at the home of his parents, on Brush Creek, near the mouth of Elk Run, two miles east of Winchester, Adams County, Ohio, August 6, 1833. When less than two years of age he was taken by his parents to the old Freeman farm, on Scioto Brush Creek, two miles west of Blue Creek, and ten miles east of West Union, where his happy boyhood days were spent, attending school and assisting his father on the farm. He removed again with his parents, August 31, 1848, to the farm his father had purchased, near Mt. Leigh, and about a mile from the place where he was born, and where he assisted his father until he became of age. He was a regular attendant at the Mt. Leigh Church and Sabbath-school for many years, early gave his heart to Christ, and united with the church in 1849, and ever afterwards maintained a consistent Christian life. He was very fond of music, and, like his brother, father, and grandfather, possessed a talent for it. After he became of age he pursued musical studies in Normal musical schools in Russellville and Decatur, Ohio, under the direction of Prof. D. H. Baldwin. He afterwards became a proficient and popular teacher of vocal and instrumental music. Sometimes he would have charge of two or three classes in different parts of the country on each secular day of the week. He possessed a sweet voice, was a fine singer, and to some extent a composer of music. His services were eagerly sought for musical institutes, conventions, and as an instructor in Normal music classes, in which he was eminently successful. In the summer of 1862 he enlisted in the army as a private in Company E, Ninety-first Regiment Ohio Volunteer Infantry; was promoted to Second Sergeant, on a few occasions acted as Captain, and was stationed principally in West Virginia. Owing to the failure of health, he was honorably discharged from the service in 1864. In 1867 he sold his farm near Mt. Leigh and removed to Xenia, Ohio, and continued to follow his profession for several years. He then became a traveling agent for the music house of D. H. Baldwin & Co., of Cincinnati. For several years he was in very poor health, unable to attend to business, and living at Xenia, Ohio. In May, 1880, he removed to Knoxville, Tennessee, and in connection with another gentleman opened a music house under the firm name of "Steen & Marshall," but in a year or two dissolved the partnership and continued in business by himself alone. After the death of his father he was made executor of his estate. In 1887 his mother came to reside in his family, where she remained until her death, in 1895, but she spent a considerable part of the time with her daughter, at Westboro, Massachusetts, and in Cincinnati, Ohio. Prof. E. Watson Steen was married by the Rev. James Dunlap, in West Union, Adams County, Ohio, October 25, 1855, to Julia Emily Lilly Diboll, a daughter of Dr. Victor M. and Philena L. Diboll, she having been born near Sardinia, Brown County, Ohio, December 7, 1839, and died at their pleasant home, in Knoxville, Tennessee, September 17, 1896, in the 57th year of her age. Her body was interred in the beautiful Woodlawn cemetery, near Xenia, Ohio, September 19, 1896. To them were born three children. Family residence, 19 Pearl Place, Knoxville, Tennessee. After their removal to Knoxville, Prof. E. Watson Steen, his wife, daughter, and mother all united with the Third Presbyterian Church (Southern), in which he was duly elected, ordained, and installed a ruling elder, which office he still holds.

1. Laura Alice Steen, the eldest daughter of Prof. E. Watson and Julia E. L. Steen, was born at the home of her parents, on the farm near Mt. Leigh and Youngsville, Adams County, Ohio, August 18, 1856, and continued to reside with her parents there until their removal to Xenia, Ohio, in 1867, when she was about eleven years old. At Xenia she early united with the First Presbyterian Church, and maintained a consistent Christian life. Here also she obtained a good English education in the Xenia schools. Like her father, she possessed splendid musical talents, which were cultivated to a high degree, so that she became not only an accomplished singer, but an excellent teacher of instrumental music as well. Miss L. Allie Steen was a young lady of good social qualities and attractive manner; but, alas, her genial and useful career was soon cut off by that dread disease, quick consumption, from which she died at the home of her parents in Xenia, Ohio, June 5, 1878, in the 22d year of her age, and in the certain hope of a blessed immortality. Her funeral took place from the Presbyterian Church, and her body was laid away to rest in the beautiful Woodlawn cemetery, near Xenia, Ohio.
2. Mary Estella Steen, the second daughter of Professor E. Watson and Julia E. L. Steen, was born at the home of her parents, on the farm near Mt. Leigh and Youngsville, Adams County, Ohio, January 13, 1860. She was brought by her parents to Xenia, Ohio, in 1867, when she was a little girl seven years of age, where she was brought up and educated.

She early united with the First Presbyterian Church in Xenia, and maintained a consistent Christian life. She secured a good English education in the Xenia schools, and was an interesting and accomplished young lady, possessing considerable literary talent. She published several interesting original stories of high merit, one of which was entitled "Book Learning vs. Housekeeping." Mary E. Steen was married by her uncle, the Rev. Moses D. A. Steen, at the Grand Hotel, in Cincinnati, Ohio, March 16, 1880, to Earnest L. Lawrence, of Xenia, Ohio. After their marriage they resided in Xenia for about five years, where Mr. Lawrence was agent for the Xenia Powder Company. In 1885 they removed to Chicago, Illinois, where they continued till her death, March 19, 1890, at the age of 30 years, 2 months and 6 days. Her body was interred in Chicago, Illinois. To them were born two children.

I.—Mildred Lawrence, the eldest child of Earnest L. and Mary E. Steen Lawrence, was born in Xenia, Ohio, June 1, 1884. Residence, Chicago, Illinois.

II.—Meredith Fay Lawrence, the second child of Earnest L. and Mary E. Steen Lawrence, was born in Chicago, Illinois, November 10, 1889. Residence, Chicago, Illinois.

3. Julia Emerine Pearl Steen, the third and youngest daughter of Prof. E. Watson and Julia E. L. Steen, was born at the home of her parents, in Xenia, Greene County, Ohio, August 8, 1871, where she resided until 1880, when she was brought by her parents to Knoxville, Tennessee. Here she received a good English education, and became an attractive and accomplished young lady. She is possessed of fine musical talents, which, under her father's direction, have been cultivated to a very high degree. She is not only a cultivated, classical, and very popular singer, but an excellent instrumental performer in public as well. She has composed and published many pieces which are quite meritorious. She took the first prize offered by the Atlanta Constitution for the best musical composition, open to the musicians of several States, besides other prizes. J. E. Pearl Steen was married at Knoxville, Tennessee, December 4, 1899, to Dr. Charles A. Garratt. Residence, Knoxville, Tennessee.

III.—Samuel Martin Steen, the third son of Aaron F. and Mary Freeman Steen, was born on the old Freeman homestead, on the east fork of Scioto Brush Creek, two miles above the mouth of Blue Creek, and ten miles east of West Union, in Adams County, Ohio, July 5, 1836. Here he continued until he was twelve years of age, going to school and assisting his father as he was able. In 1848 he removed with the family to their new home, on his father's farm, twenty miles distant, near Mt. Leigh, Adams County, Ohio, where he continued to work on the farm in summer and go to school in winter. He was also a regular attendant at the Mt. Leigh Church and Sabbath-school. Having secured a good common school education at Mt. Leigh, he afterwards attended the State Normal School at Lebanon, Ohio, under the direction of Prof. E. H. Holbrook, and became a teacher. S. Martin Steen was a young man of brilliant talents, a natural mathematician, delighting in difficult problems. He was also able in argument, and extremely fond of it. Often he would present a proposition to his brother or other friend to see which side he would take, then take the opposite and use such strong arguments as to compel his opponent to admit that he was wrong. Then, taking a good hearty laugh, he would take up the other side of the question and convince him back again that he was right after all, and enjoy another hearty laugh. He had the peculiar faculty of doing this without giving offense, and purely from the love of debate. He was a young man of great energy and perseverance, and had his life been spared, he would probably have made his mark in the world. He taught quite successfully several terms of school, the last one being at Sandy Springs, Ohio, near the Ohio River, which closed in June, 1859. While living here he united with the Methodist Episcopal Church upon profession of faith in Christ. Here also, while engaged in teaching, he caught a very severe cold, which settled upon his lungs and developed into quick consumption. S. Martin Steen died at the residence of his parents, near Mt. Leigh, Adams County, Ohio, with an assured hope of a glorious immortality, October 13, 1859, aged 23 years, 3 months, and 8 days. His body was laid away to rest in the Mt. Leigh cemetery.

IV.—John Truman Steen, the fourth son of Aaron F. and Mary Freeman Steen, was born at the old Freeman homestead, on Scioto Brush Creek, in Jefferson Township, Adams County, Ohio, May 18, 1838. His earliest associations were thus connected with the home of his mother's parents, who came from Maryland into that locality in 1797, and where his mother was born and brought up. When a little child he went to school on Blue Creek, two and one-half miles away, near the mouth of which beautiful stream there was a junction of the roads leading to Portsmouth, Rome, and West Union. There was also a post-office, country store and blacksmith shop, where the local business was principally transacted. In 1848, when ten years of age, he was taken by his parents to their new home on the farm his father had purchased, three miles from Winchester, on the road leading to Mt. Leigh, where he grew to manhood. In the Mt. Leigh school he secured a good common English education, afterwards attended the State Normal School at Lebanon, Ohio, and qualified himself for a teacher, in which profession he was especially successful. He was exceedingly fond of music, and is said to have had the finest and most natural talent for it of any member of the family. His social qualities were also of a high order, and his company was sought and enjoyed by all his acquaintances. J. Truman Steen united with the Mt. Leigh Presbyterian Church on profession of faith in Christ, June 9, 1858, and continued to be an earnest, devoted and useful Christian. While engaged in teaching school at Harsha's Mills, he caught a very severe cold, which developed into consumption. He died at his father's residence, universally beloved and greatly lamented, June 25, 1862, aged 24 years, 1 month and 7 days. His body was lovingly laid away to rest in the cemetery at Mt. Leigh, Adams County, Ohio.

V.—Moses Duncan Alexander Steen, the fifth son of Aaron F. and Mary Freeman Steen, was born at the old Freeman home, on Scioto Brush Creek, two miles west of Blue Creek, and ten miles east of West Union, Ohio, April 24, 1841. His earliest recollections were of the old house in which he and also his mother were born, the orchard, the creek, rocky cliffs and cedar trees, the high bridge, the sugar camp, the old church graveyard, and the surrounding hills. The death of his little brother in the autumn of 1844 was never effaced from his memory. His first day at school on Blue Creek remains as a vivid picture, one brother holding each hand as they walked along until they came to Smalley's store, where they bought a "primer," with bright pictures, and proceeded to the school-house, where the teacher took him on her lap. The school exhibition which occurred later on, at which he recited "Twinkle, twinkle, little star," and the long Sabbath services of the Seceders, at Waite's Mill, have never been forgotten. He was taken by his parents to their new home, near Mt. Leigh, August 31, 1848; was baptized in the Mt. Leigh Presbyterian Church by the Rev. James Dunlap, together with each of his elder brothers, October 2, 1848. He was afterwards a regular attendant at the church, Sabbath-school, and district school, and Sabbath afternoons were devoted by his parents to the religious instruction of their children. Moses D. A. Steen united with the Mt. Leigh Presbyterian Church on profession of faith, June 8, 1858, and began a course of study in North Liberty Academy, afterwards spent three years in Salem Academy, under Rev. Dr. James A. I. Lowes, one year in Hanover College, and completed his classical course in Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, from which he graduated, receiving the degree of B.A., June 27, 1866. He entered the United Presbyterian Theological Seminary at Xenia, Ohio, September 1, 1866, where he spent one term. He afterwards attended the Presbyterian Theological Seminary of the Northwest, at Chicago, Illinois, from which he graduated April 1, 1869, having spent the autumn session of 1868 in the Theological Seminary at Princeton, New Jersey. He was licensed to preach the Gospel in Hillsboro, Ohio, by the O. S. Presbytery, of Chillicothe, April 8, 1868, and spent the summer months in preaching in Mt. Sterling and Sharpsburgh, Kentucky. Immediately after his graduation from the Theological Seminary, in April, 1869, he took charge of the church in Worthington, near Columbus, Ohio. The next year he accepted an invitation to the church in Vevay, Indiana, and in that church was ordained to the ministry by the Presbytery of New Albany, September 8, 1870. In January, 1872, he accepted a call to the pastorate at Solon, near Cleveland, Ohio, which he resigned in April, 1873, to accept a call to Conneautville, Pennsylvania, which church he resigned in December, 1874, and took charge of the church at Waterford, Pennsylvania. In May, 1875, he accepted a call to Ludlow, Kentucky, opposite Cincinnati, Ohio, where he remained six years and three months. Through his patient and persistent labors a heavy and pressing mortgage debt was removed, and the church placed upon a substantial basis of prosperity. In the summer of 1877, while in charge of this church, he made an extensive journey through Europe, traveling in Ireland, Scotland, England, Holland, Belgium, Germany, Switzerland and France, and returned to his work with renewed vigor. He resigned his church at Ludlow, Kentucky, to accept an invitation to the church at Pleasant Ridge, a suburb of Cincinnati, Ohio, and the next season he accepted an invitation to Davisville, California, and entered upon his work September 1, 1882, but a few months later returned East and supplied the churches of Troy and Edwardsville, Illinois. October 1, 1883, he accepted an invitation to Tabernacle Church, Gunnison, Colorado. The next year he went to Black Hawk, Colorado. In 1885 he went to the Pacific Coast, supplied the First Church, Tacoma, Washington, a few weeks, and then the Snohomish Church, Washington, for one year, the church doubling its membership during that time. In July, 1886, he accepted an invitation to the church at Woodbridge, California, to begin his labors September 1, 1886, where he was afterwards installed pastor, and where he still remains. Moses D. A. Steen and his wife have devoted their leisure hours to special courses of study together, receiving diplomas from the C. L. S. C. in 1889, and afterwards the Guild of the Seven Seals. They completed the Bible Correspondence School Course of seven years, and received their diplomas in 1890. In connection with his work in Woodbridge, California, Dr. Steen organized a Presbyterian church at Clements, fourteen miles distant, where no church of any denomination had existed before, September 29, 1889, and supplied it at regular intervals for several years. With a membership of only nine persons, he was instrumental in building and dedicating, without debt, on this mission field, a beautiful and substantial church edifice worth $5,000. In 1888 he was invited by the faculty to preach the annual sermon at San Joaquin Valley College, and a few days later at the annual meeting of the Board of Trustees they conferred upon him the honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity. In 1889 the University of Wooster conferred upon him the degree of Doctor of Philosophy upon thesis and examination. The twenty-fifth anniversary, or silver wedding, of Rev. Dr. and Mrs. M. D. A. Steen was appropriately celebrated in the church at Woodbridge, California, under the auspices of "The King's Daughters," and was a most delightful occasion. Dr. Steen has frequently been chosen Moderator of the Presbytery with which he was connected, and since 1893 has been the Stated Clerk and Treasurer of the Presbytery of Stockton. He was chosen Commissioner to the Presbyterian General Assemblies at Madison, Wisconsin, in 1880; at Omaha, Nebraska, in 1887; at Saratoga Springs, New York, in 1894. In 1895 he was chosen by the General Assembly at Pittsburg, Pennsylvania, a delegate to the "Council of Reformed Churches throughout the world, holding the Presbyterian system," to meet in Glasgow, Scotland, in 1896. On this occasion he was accompanied by his wife, and after the Council they extended their journeys throughout British and Continental Europe, returning to America by way of the Northern Route, by the Coast of Labrador, through the Strait of Belle Isle, the Gulf and River of St. Lawrence to Quebec, and Montreal. He has traveled extensively in the United States, the Provinces of Canada, and Mexico. Including missionary work in the West with other journeys, he has visited every State and Territory in the American Union except Alaska, and preached the Gospel in many of them — in the forest, in log cabins, in frontier settlements, in school-houses, on river and ocean steamers, in village and city churches, among Indians, Mexicans, and all classes and conditions of people, rich and poor, learned and illiterate. Rev. Moses D. A. Steen was married by the Rev. William R. Parsons, at the home of the bride's parents, in Worthington, near Columbus, Ohio, June 22, 1870, to Mary Foster, a daughter of Archibald and Harriet Foster, formerly of Sugar Creek, Venango County, Pennsylvania, she having been born at Sugar Creek, Pennsylvania, July 21, 1843. She united with the Sugar Creek Presbyterian Church upon profession of faith, June 8, 1858, and is an amiable, devout, and useful Christian. To them was born one child. Residence, Woodbridge, California.

1. Lulu Grace Steen, the only child of Rev. Moses D. A. and Mary Foster Steen, was born in Conneautville, Pennsylvania, July 4, 1873, and died in Ludlow, Kentucky, July 3, 1876, aged three years. She was a general favorite, a remarkably bright and interesting child, affectionate, obedient, patient, and yet full of life and enthusiasm. She was intelligent beyond her years, and devotional to an eminent degree. On her third birthday, July 4, 1876, the centennial of American independence, her mortal remains were laid away to rest in the beautiful Woodlawn cemetery, near Xenia, Ohio.

VJ — Josiah James Steen, the sixth son of Aaron F. and Mary Freeman Steen, was born on the old Freeman farm, on Scioto Brush Creek, two miles west of Blue Creek, in Adams County, Ohio, February 25, 1844, and died September 8, 1844, aged 8 months and 13 days. His body was laid away in the Blue Creek cemetery. "A sweet little bud taken from earth, to bloom in heaven."

VII.—Sarah Catherine Steen, called "Kate," the seventh child and only daughter of Aaron F. and Mary Freeman Steen, was born at the home of her parents, near Mt. Leigh, and three miles east of Winchester, Adams County, Ohio, April 1, 1853. She continued to reside with her parents on the farm, near Mt. Leigh and Winchester, Ohio, and attended the public school, the church and the Sabbath-school at Mt. Leigh until she was twelve years of age, when she removed with her parents to their new home at Xenia, Ohio, where she was brought up and educated. She graduated from the Xenia High School in 1872, and in early life united with the First Presbyterian Church of that city. Like her father and elder brothers, she possessed fine musical talents, which she delighted to cultivate and exercise, and under the instruction of skillful teachers she soon acquired a cultivated voice, skill in execution, and became an accomplished teacher of vocal and instrumental music. In 1879 she taught for six months in Clarksville, Tennessee. After the death of her father, in 1881, she and her mother moved into the heart of the city, where they lived together, and she taught music privately to many pupils. In 1883 she accepted the position of teacher of vocal music and voice culture in Antioch College, Yellow Springs, Ohio, still making her home with her mother in Xenia until after her marriage. S. Kate Steen was married by the Rev. John S. Axtell, in Xenia, Ohio, December 24, 1885, to the Rev. Elijah Alfred Coil, and January 1, 1886, they removed to Yellow Springs, Ohio, taking her mother with them. The Rev. E. Alfred Coil was a son of Jesse A. and Lydia Coil, and was born May 2, 1858, and brought up on his father's farm, near Delphos, Allen County, Ohio. His mother died when he was a little child only five years old. He attended school in the neighborhood, and secured his higher education at Antioch College, Yellow Springs, Ohio, where, as his music teacher, he became acquainted with his future wife. He accepted a call to the pastorate of the Christian Church at Yellow Springs, Ohio, September 1, 1885, and continued in charge two years. Then, September 1, 1887, he accepted a call to the First Unitarian Church in Westboro, Worcester County, Massachusetts, where he remained in charge four years. Then again he removed to Cincinnati, Ohio, September 1, 1891, and became pastor of the Unity Church of that city, where he remained four years, until September 1, 1895, when he accepted a call to the pastorate of the First Unitarian Church of Marietta, Ohio, where he is still in charge. To them were born four children. Residence, Marietta, Ohio.

1. Emery Wilbur Coil, the eldest child of the Rev. E. Alfred and Kate Steen Coil, was born in Westboro, Massachusetts, in Worcester County, about thirty miles from Boston, September 28, 1888.

Leigh, and three miles east of Winchester, Adams County, Ohio, June 8, 1856, and died June 26, 1856, aged 18 days. The two last named were twin brothers, and were buried in the same grave, in the Mt. Leigh cemetery.

CHAPTER IX.

Charles Freeman, the ninth child and fifth son of Michael and Elizabeth Duncan Freeman, was born on the old Freeman farm, on Scioto Brush Creek, the east fork, near its source, two miles west of the mouth of Blue Creek, and about ten miles east of West Union, Adams County, Ohio, February 12, 1813, and died at his own home, in the Greenbrier neighborhood, about two-miles from his father's farm, in December, 1843, after suffering several weeks from the effects of a fall, injuring his spine. BOOK TWO.

THE DESCENDANTS OF JOSEPH FREEMAN.

Joseph Freeman was the second son of Moses and Nancy Knight Freeman, and was born in Queen Anne County, Maryland, on the eastern shore of the Chesapeake Bay, about 1768; was married to Elizabeth Higgins about 1795, and removed to the Northwest Territory with his family and friends, in company of emigrants to the far West, in 1797, and brought up a family of five children in Adams County, Ohio.

Joseph Freeman, the second son of Moses and Nancy Knight Freeman, was born near Queenstown, on the eastern shore of the Chesapeake Bay, in Queen Anne County, Maryland, about 1768, and was brought up on his father's farm. He lived in that locality until he was nearly thirty years of age. He was married in Queen Anne County, Maryland, about 1795, to Elizabeth Higgins, who was born and brought up in the same locality. In the summer of 1797, in company with his brother Michael Freeman and family, and a goodly number of other emigrants to the far West, they left the home of their childhood, bid farewell to dear friends, never expecting to see them again, and journeyed along the eastern shore of the Chesapeake Bay, in a northeasterly direction, then along the valley of the Susquehanna River, until they reached the Allegheny Mountains, which were crossed with difficulty, thence down the Monongahela River to Pittsburgh. From this point they came down the Ohio River on flatboats and landed at a place near the mouth of Ohio Brush Creek, in what was then the great Northwest Territory, thence they journeyed inland, and Joseph Freeman located on lands near the Scioto Brush Creek, east fork, in what is now Adams County, Ohio.
